From the 5th to the 7th November 2018 the first transnational meeting of the NGEnvironment project took place, so as to officially start the Erasmus+ project:

“NGEnvironment – FOSTER EUROPEAN ACTIVE CITIZENSHIP AND SUSTAINABILITY THROUGH ECOLOGICAL THINKING BY NGOs”

Representatives from 8 different European entities were attending the kick off meeting, which was hosted by Right Challenge, in Lousada (Portugal).

The main objective of the project is to promote active citizenship and sustainability among adults. In order to do so, the entities involved will be creating different tools to train potential and current NGO leaders. Project participants will also have the opportunity to improve their skills and basic competences in leadership, citizenship and NGO management, as well as contribute to support green and social actions.
