Foster European Active Citizenship and Sustainability
Through Ecological Thinking by NGOs

NGEnvironment

From 2nd to 7th of February, 2020 we participated in a learning activity as a part of the Erasmus+project: ‘NGEnvironment- Foster European Active Citizenship and Sustainability Through Ecological Thinking by NGOs’ (2018-1-DE02-KA204-005014) in Reggio Emilia (Italy).

It was attended by adult trainers, entrepreneurs and adults interested in social and green initiatives from Germany, Italy, Romania, Malta, Portugal, Ireland, Greece and Spain.

During this training course participants could know and test the intellectual outputs of the project, specially IO2, IO3 and IO5 in order to improve them. In addition, attendees achieved innovative and better skills and tools to improve their daily work with adults or lead social and green changes.

Finally, all participants shared interesting spaces for collective discussion and reflection on the situation of environmental protection in their countries and worldwide.
